Our Vision & Mission

Jesuit Vision of Education

Jesuit Education, inspired and motivated by the person and message of Jesus Christ, affirms (a) that God is the author and sustainer of all reality and truth; (b) that every human being is created in the image and likeness of God; and (c) that the whole of creation and the human community are radically good.

Jesuit Education, therefore, is committed to

- (a) An authentic search of knowledge in the service and advancement of the world;
- (b) Upholding the dignity, uniqueness and giftedness of each individual; and
- (c) The promotion of harmony among humans, and between humans and nature.

The 'Mission' is derived from the Vision and is the raison d'être of the College.

St. Joseph's College of Commerce seeks to be the place where search for knowledge complements a sense of responsibility to the life of the community, where understanding is coupled with commitment, and where academic excellence goes with the cultivation of virtue. The Institution seeks to be a place where a community is formed which sustains men and women in their education and their conviction that life is only lived well only when it is lived generously in the service of others.

Aims and Objectives

In keeping with the ethos of the Society of Jesus, the guiding force behind this Institution and keeping in tune with the spirit and needs of the times we live in, the College aims at the holistic formation of students, helping them to become men and women imbued with a spirit of excellence and an abiding concern for others. These are guided by the three intertwined goals: Academic Excellence, Social Concern & Character Formation

Principal's Foreword

Distinguished Chief Guest of this evening Dr. Anand K Joshi, Vice Chancellor, CMR University, Rev. Fr. Anthony Joseph, SJ, Vice President of BJES & Rector of St. Joseph's Institutions, Dear Principals, Rev. Fathers, Rev. Sisters, respected Members of the Staff, Parents, Alumni, Guests and my dear Students –

Good evening and a warm welcome to the 45th College Day Celebrations of St Joseph's College of Commerce.

In January this year, Oxfam released its annual report on world inequality, reporting that 8 individuals had a combined net worth equal to the bottom 50% world population, around 3.7 billion people. While the report's methodology and interpretations are being fiercely debated by economists, journalists and business persons, the substantive message is clear: Inequality is the bête noire of our times. There are 4 billion people earning less than $5 a day, constituting the world's 'Base of the Pyramid'. Their lives are characterised by chronic poverty – the poverty of wealth, health, education, rights, safety, governance, access and opportunity. The imperative to serve these markets is an economic incentive as well as a moral responsibility.

The base of the pyramid is home to many emerging markets – India, China, Brazil, Mexico, Bangladesh, Kenya, Nigeria and so forth. These countries have large, underserved markets, high degree of informality, high transaction costs, and pose considerable risks to doing business. Yet, they will be drivers of world growth in the next century. However, this growth is going to be neither organic nor easy, for the economic potential of these markets is tied to the social conditions of their inhabitants. In other words, businesses cannot create economic value at the base of the pyramids, without creating social values. Success stories like Grameen, SKS Microfinance, MPesa, Aravind Eye Hospitals, HUL, Acumen and Omidyar have shown us some paths. Nonetheless, how businesses are going to solve the social problems of the world while creating economic value for themselves is a world of challenges and opportunities waiting to be explored by our students.

The times we live in need an army of young men and women who have the humility to unlearn and relearn, the courage to chart difficult and new paths, who exhibit empathy, compassion and principles, and possess both the analytical rigour and creative bent of mind to design innovative, cost effective and scalable solutions to social problems. At St. Joseph's, we are proud to have nurtured this for many years – our interdisciplinary curriculum is steeped in both theory and practice, with immersive learning opportunities for our students to explore a wide variety of interests from research, writing, journalism, to entrepreneurship and private sector internships. Our pedagogy is supplemented by various extracurricular activities in the form of conferences and fests, that create spaces for diffusion of ideas, scholarship and talent. Our exceptional faculty, researchers, staff and the college administration work tirelessly to create an environment that fosters curiosity, innovation, critical thinking and a strong ethos of public service in the young minds of our students.

We must acknowledge, here, that this onerous task of alleviating inequality within our lifetimes is not the students' job alone. Oftentimes, our concern for them impedes their organic growth. Our demands and expectations of our students – to pursue professional courses, to attend business schools, to find stable, well paying, jobs, stem from our generation's idea of security and stability, considered pillars of a good life. But the world has changed since our times. Today's youth face an onslaught of dynamic challenges for which they need to constantly equip themselves. It's adaptability and entrepreneurship, not stability and security, which will enable them to become problems solvers of the 21st century. There are no successes without failures and no flights without falls. As parents and educators, we shoulder equal responsibility to allow our young ones to experiment, fail, learn and grow.

As I bid Farewell to the graduating class, I extend my warmest wishes, support and love to each one of them. I know they will use the gifts of this education and experience to achieve measurable and meaningful progress against our society's greatest challenges, making their alma mater proud. We are grateful to God that the mission and performance of our institution continues and will be blessed in this endeavour.

to review our efforts towards continued enhancement of quality education. The Audit provided for a strategic overview of the entirety of teaching and learning activity.

An External Panel of academic professionals with knowledge of Higher Education and experience of External Audit and Review visited our campus for the same purpose on 25th July, 2016. A report of the review was produced by the team and the College responded to the report by preparing an action plan to address areas of recommendations and concerns that were identified.

C. UGC Visit for Extension of Autonomy

An expert committee of UGC, consisting of Prof. J.N. Mishra (Chairman), Dr. B.T. Seetha (Member), Dr. Sudha Vyas (Member), Prof. B.L. Shidramappa (Govt. Nominee), Prof. K.K. Seethama (University Nominee) visited the campus to review the autonomous status of the Institution on July 15th and 16th 2016. After which, the autonomous status of the Institution was renewed for a period of six years. (2016-17 to 2021-2022)

D. National Conference

A One Day National IQAC Conference on 'New Approaches to Learning Outcomes and Assessment under Choice Based Credit System' was organized on 10th February 2017 with the objective to deliberate on innovative assessment and evaluation techniques that could be implemented to enhance quality in higher education. E. Exit Interview

Exit interviews, conducted for the outgoing students, are done in order to glean feedback from students and use them to improve the quality of education. The exit interview process involves approximately 150 students taking up the interview in which a common questionnaire is answered by the students. The responses of students is later analyzed and incorporated into the Plan of Action. For the first time, this academic year, the exit interview was done online through Google forms.

F. Open House

Open House, conducted by the IQAC, is a platform for students to express their opinions, concerns and complaints regarding the day-to-day functioning of the college, academic and administrative aspects of the college. The main objective of the initiative is to strengthen the feedback mechanism to further accentuate the quality enhancement process.

As a part of this initiative, a general Open House was conducted on the 23rd of January 2017 which consisted of both of UG and PG students. Students from UG and PG expressed a few recommendations. The college was highly commended for its campus life and the exposure it provided, by the students.

G. Women’s Open House

Students take up social internships as it helps to portray their leadership skills and develop their ability to make a change in society. Some of the NGOs and organizations where our students have contributed to the cause are CARE, Akshaypatra, Justice & Care, Sakhi (Hospet), Teach for India, Bosco, Old age homes, primary schools etc. The college also has signed a MoU with Amnesty International to collaborate on human rights education programme. Associations like CSA, NSS and AICUF annually conducts many programmes in association with the above-mentioned NGOs.

Hashmi Theatre Forum in partnership with the NGO Sakhi (Hospet), which works with victims of sexual abuse and rescues women from trafficking and the devadasi system, had organized a tribal exposure camp for the students. Students visited a tribal belt in Paderu, Telangana where they were exposed to the tribal communities. Students had an intensive experience by interacting with the tribal people and learning about their culture, lifestyle and the problems that they face. An understanding of how modernity and globalization affects tribal communities was the main focus of the camp.

Strengthening the Institution's partnership with NGOs, this academic year as a significant achievement, the B.Com Travel and Tourism Department collaborated with a nationally acclaimed NGO called U&I. The programme is launched for the first-year students as a part of their social internship programme. The Institution signed the Memorandum of Understanding the organization and students volunteered to work with them for a period of nine months. Its focus is on teaching and assisting underprivileged and orphan children across the city. The idea of a social internship is to augment the Josephite motto of creating men and women for others. By undertaking such social programmes, students become aware of some of the pressing concerns of society and work towards in solving and serving the country at large.

Although the teacher's role is central in controlling and directing the activity involved in a pedagogical method, emphasis is laid on experience and experiment on the part of the learners too. Subject specific research for students, simulation games, role plays, case study analyses, rural camps, rural exposure programmes, social visits, internship programmes, articleship programmes and industrial visits are among the many innovative pedagogical methods adopted.

PART V: Student Support and Progression

Student support and progression is one of the core criterions that the Institution strives to attain through its educational pursuits and extracurricular activities. All through its diversified programmes and ventures, it aims to drive students' passion and intellectual curiosity towards their subjects of interests. In the attainment of the said goal, the Institution practices and has laid out a diversified student support and progression framework that greatly motivates and nurtures students' educational endeavours. To meet the demand for holistic education pedagogy, the Institution has framed mentorship programmes, workshops, pre-placement support and guidance aid amongst many others.

The Institution also seeks to provide an environment which is supportive of students from disadvantaged backgrounds by granting them financial aids and scholarships. Students with certain disabilities are also given additional help through individual tutoring and remedial classes. Confidential counselling sessions are organized to improve the mental health and well-being of students. It is the unequivocal belief of the Institution that these measures will not only support the growth of students in all spheres of life but also effectively see them successful through various challenges.

A. Evaluation & Results

The Institution is committed to produce dynamic individuals whose academic excellence rivals their community involvement and leadership qualities. Examinations and grades are but a humble measure of the efforts in this endeavour.

As an autonomous Institution, it has the freedom to improvise systems of assessments to make it more holistic and reflective of the interdisciplinary approach to education that is not solely reliant on books and classes.

The Examination Department under the leadership of the COE Ms. Sneha Rai has been constantly striving to reform the examination system. In this regard the following new practices were initiated in this academic year.

- a) Online Examination for foundation subjects Indian Constitution and Environmental Studies using Moodle platform.
- b) Facility of Examination fee payment was introduced.
- c) Continuous Internal Assessment component of Mid Term Test which is a centralized written test was exempted for General English and Languages. The subject teachers were given the freedom to evaluate the entire CIA component of 20 marks through innovative and contemporary methods.
- d) Old answer sheets were recycled and converted to books with the help of ITC factory. These books were distributed to poor children studying in the Government Schools through Outreach Programmes.

Examination results play a vital role in a student's career prospects and thus the Institution strive to make the process of evaluation objective and transparent. The performance of our students both at UG and PG level has been outstanding and reflective of the Institution's efforts to deliver academic excellence.
